CALGARY PYTHIANS TAKE OVER NEW QUARTERS

Arrangements have been completed whereby the Calgary Lodges and Sister Temple will move from the present Castle Hall on the corner of 8th Avenue and 3rd Street West in what was formerly known as the Gladys Atree Academy. This appears to be a move in the right direction, and the Calgary lodges will now have a home to be proud of. The hall committee of the Pythian club have leased the premises for a term of five years, and are renting suitable convention nights to Calgary No. 4, Crescent No. 14 and Maple Temple No. 2. The reconstruction work is practically finished and when completed will give a lodge room 100 feet long and 50 feet wide. On the east side of the lodge room will be the Pythian Club Room, a space of 50 by 50 feet, also a reading and writing room 12 by 20 feet. In the space in the northwest will be the executive offices of the Grand Lodge of Alberta. The premises are very conveniently fitted with kitchen, toilets, etc., and will provide a long-felt want in Pythian circles in Calgary.—Canadian Knight.

Charles E. Hendry, boys' work secretary for Alberta, has resigned that position to resume studies at Columbia University, New York.

A sale of the Harvest gifts will be held on Monday evening following.

"Keep your legs" was the advice Viscount Grey, of Fallodon, recently gave to the boys of Epsom college. He warned them against giving up walking and riding bicycles because the means of communication have been so much improved, and said even a middle-aged man is better for walking twenty miles a day or riding fifty on a wheel.

The doctor had two pretty children. One day a woman passing two small boys heard one say to the other: "Those pretty girls over there are the doctor's children."

Full Steam Ahead

Within a few days of the writing of this article the electors of Canada will journey to the polls to elect their representatives in a new House of Commons and thereby also determine the political complexion of the Government. Before this article appears in print the verdict of the ballots will have been rendered.

Whatever that verdict may be, and at the time of writing it is very decidedly in doubt, it is to be hoped that it will be sufficiently decisive one way or the other to give the successful party a fair working majority in the next Parliament. It is in the interests of Canada that stable government be re-established and unquestionably the great majority of the people wish it.

Economic conditions throughout the Dominion are very satisfactory at the present time, business is good and promises to be better, industry in all its branches is active, trade is rapidly expanding, and increased prosperity is everywhere apparent. What Canada now requires is not only materials but to further advance these conditions, is a removal of the era of doubt and indecision in government which has existed as a result of the stalemate in Parliament.

A young country like Canada can ill afford to "drift" at any time, but at no time is such a policy, or rather lack of policy, quite so dangerous as during those periods when decision and vigorous aggressive action are necessary to take full advantage of the flowing tide.

Quite apart from all partisan considerations, or whether Mackenzie King or Arthur Meighen head the Government, there are certain policies which the present and future welfare of Canada demand should be adhered to and further developed. They may well constitute fundamental plank in the programme of all Canadian Governments, and it is to be earnestly hoped that a Government will be placed in office sufficiently strong to carry them out.

Failing the creation of such a Government, both parties might well unite to give effect to them.

In the first place, the policy which has been developed during the past few years, and for which Hon. Mr. Robt. Christie deserves great credit, of negotiating trade arrangements with various countries should be persevered in.

The present activity in Canada's manufacturing industries is the direct outcome of this policy which has resulted in opening doors and creating new markets abroad for Canadian goods. It is not a protective tariff designed to shut foreign-made goods out of Canada that has brought present prosperity to manufacturers and the labor they employ, but the development of an export trade far exceeding anything hitherto known, and building up a favorable balance of trade mounting up into the hundreds of millions of dollars. Last year, for the first time in Canada's history, more manufactured goods were exported from Canada than were imported. This record should be maintained, and the favorable margin steadily increased. It can be done through the development of foreign markets, and the making of mutually advantageous trade agreements whereby such markets will be opened to Canada.

Secondly, unremitting attention should be devoted to the question of immigration. Close and expert study of every angle of this large subject should continue without any intermission, and necessary legislation passed, appropriations made, and efficient administration as free as possible of red tape provided, all to the end that an ever increasing stream of settlers may be located here to till the fertile agricultural lands and develop the many other resources of natural wealth which the Dominion can boast. There is no room for, and no reason for, party politics in dealing with this essentially great nation-building program.

While Canada must continue to raise a large revenue for the Federal Government in order to meet and discharge our war obligations, further reductions in taxation should be made so as to relieve the individual taxpayer and release money for profitable and productive investment. The increased buying power of the people following tax reductions, added momentum given to business and in all lines of industrial activity, resulting in increased employment, will in final analysis, so speed up the business of the whole that the Government will receive quite as large a revenue in the aggregate although each individual contribution will be smaller.

There are other matters calling for attention and definite action, but these three outstanding subjects of national importance should not be neglected no matter what the complexion of the next Parliament and Government may be. Furthermore, the Government should be called upon to carry these policies into early effect. Lastly, the Government, whether under Mr. King or Mr. Meighen, should be accorded support by the people as a whole in a united endeavor to give stability in government, sound administration, and vigorous action along broad lines of Canadian advancement.

Made First Aeroplane Flight Across Channel

Frenchman Makes Trip Again This Time As Passenger

Louis Bleriot, who, in July, 1909, made the first air flight across the English Channel in a little 25-horsepower monoplane, has crossed the channel again by air, but this time as a passenger in a 42-horsepower aircraft. It was his first flight across the channel since his historic one of 1909.

M. Bleriot has flown in France frequently since his eventful achievement of 1909, but has always traveled by steamship hitherto in his frequent trips to England.

Discovered High Explosive

Lloyd George Says Few Helped Britain in Great War

Former Premier David Lloyd George, at the summer school of the Inter-Jewish Federation at Bangor, revealed that Dr. Chaim Weizmann, Zionist leader, helped to save the nation during the war by his discovery of an essential ingredient of high explosives.

"When I asked what honor I could recommend him for he replied: 'I want no honor, but I would like you to do something for my people,'" Lloyd George said.

Lloyd George paid a tribute to Jewish war service, saying that no class responded more readily to the call than the Jewish people in every country. He declared the Jews are true to the country in which they dwell and that it was a great mistake to imagine that a race which was international could not be national too.

Want the Right Kind According to the Bishop of London there are a million and a half of the right sort of people in the Old Country who are ready to come to Canada as soon as they are assured of a welcome. And no doubt, Canada will furnish the welcome as soon as it is assured that they are the right kind of people. —Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

Ruby Of Great Value

Human Image Is Seen in Jewel Found in India

Royal palaces, sparkling like drops of piquant blood, are beautiful jewels. But when one discloses, inside, a portrait made not by human hands, but by nature, it is unique and of surpassing value. Such a ruby has been found by a member of the Bengal legislative council. The gem, considered a gift of God, and the jewel assumes an importance that cannot be estimated in terms of cash.

The stone is not large, but inside the outer surface, deep down behind a scarlet cloud, appears a tiny image of a man, dressed in white, with a darkish brown face and deep brown eyes. The man is seen wearing a white puggree (part of the national dress of the Hindus) and the rest of his body is covered by deep folds of a garment of silken white.

The more closely the gem is examined the more the image comes out in detail. The ruby was sent to the director of the geological department in India, who pronounced it a real ruby of high value. He could not explain the portrait and so called it a freak of nature without a parallel.

New Ray Discovered

Unlike X-ray It Can Penetrate Layer Of Lead

A description of the newly-discovered Millikan rays will be included in the next Smithsonian annual report on the compilation of which the Institution is now engaged. These rays are, like X-rays, can penetrate metal. A thin sheet of lead, however, will stop X-rays. Millikan's rays will travel through a layer of lead six feet thick.

"It seems," says a bulletin of the Smithsonian Institution, "that all space is alive with these new rays. They do not originate on the earth, but come into us with the velocity of light from the great universe beyond the atmosphere. Probably they are formed by the breaking up of the atoms which compose the stars. No one can yet foresee by what remarkable uses they may come to serve us."

"When Faraday, in 1831, demonstrated before the Royal Society that all that was necessary to obtain an electric current was to move a wire across the pole of a magnet, a woman in the audience asked him of what use the experiment was. That discovery, as we know, formed the basis of all the modern electrical machinery. Faraday replied:

"Madam, you tell me of what use is a few-born babe?"

"Faraday's babe has grown up into a giant now. So it may prove with Millikan's."

The Poisons We Love

Every healthy man, woman and child looks forward to the pleasure of a hearty breakfast, and an abundantly provided dinner without giving a thought to the time when such a habit of eating will be broken, no longer hold attraction. If the reader will recall the many popular games with which he was acquainted, who no longer continues to play them, he will be struck by the fact that almost every one of such friends were fatally stricken when they should have been in the prime of their lives. And if the actual cause of their disease be investigated, the fact that the cancer disease is the one that should give the reader food for carefully personal self-examination.

The refined foods, rich sauces, meats, denatured vegetables and fruits, white sugar and white flour from all of which the last trace of health-giving potassium and other salts have been deliberately or thoughtlessly extracted, unite in creating more acids in the body than any human liver can either neutralize or dispose of economically. The result is a condition of acidosis, the precursor of the now practically universal complaint of constipation, and as Dr. Robert Bell, the eminent English authority, published to the world: "Constipation is the forerunner of Cancer."

The reason why cancer strikes civilized rich and poor in an impartial way is because civilization generally is suffering from an unrecognized potassium starvation. This peculiar form of starvation is caused by the establishment of cancer in the human body and, as the late Dr. F. W. Forbes, Ross, stated in 1912, if the potassium deficiency be remedied, cancer, even in advanced stages, will retrograde. Upon the profound experience and knowledge of the last quoted English authority has been based the unique success of The Cantastum Treatment for cancer and other diseases arising from similar causes. A home experiment in the treatment of the deadly self-inflicted blood disease of cancer will be mailed to all who request it. No charge if application is made to Charles A. Walter, 51 Brunswick Avenue, Toronto, Ont. Sole Canadian and American representative for The Cantastum Co. of England.

ARE YOU AFRAID OF YOUR MEALS?

Proof That the Stomach is Weak and Needs Toning Up

Are you one of the many sufferers who dread food? Hungry, and yet afraid to eat, because of the pains and discomforts that follow? Would you like to get rid of the whole system suffers, and as the blood becomes thin and watery it becomes increasingly difficult to correct the digestive disorder. There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for the whole system. The blood-building tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, not only relieves indigestion, but adds to the strength of the blood. Mr. J. Shaw, Selkirk Road, P.E.I., has provided the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a severe case of indigestion and relates his experience for the benefit of other sufferers. He says:—

"I suffered from indigestion for a number of years. My case was so bad that words fail to describe it. My appetite was gone, my stomach was present, and my nerves were all on edge. I could not sleep well at night, and the world was a dark spot for me. I tried a number of remedies, but without any benefit. Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended, but without much faith, after so many failures, I decided to try them. After one bottle I felt a great deal better. From the time she was 16 her mother trained her in all modern genteel duties, but she could not teach her to overcome the characteristics which now appear to make her lonely and isolated."

Believes Leprosy Is Curable

Medical Secretary to Leprosy Mission Optimistic About New Treatment

Dr. Robert O. Cochrane, who is not yet 30, has just returned to England after a 40,000 miles, four of the world's principal leprosy stations.

In his capacity as medical secretary to the Mission for Lepers, he has recently visited every centre in Hawaii, India, Siam, Borneo and the Philippines.

For four months Dr. Cochrane lived among lepers at one of the stations, spending his time attending to them and investigating their cases. He is very optimistic about future work.

"If you can not get them early on in their trouble," he said, "many patients can be treated as outpatients. In all these early cases there is a great deal of hope. Medical advancement in treatment of the disease has been considerable in the past few years. It is necessary to recognize the disease early, then with efficient treatment and the segregation of old cases, the scourge will be got under control. Once epidemic cases have been early treatment the disease can be arrested there will be no difficulty in getting them to come forward to the stations. By the end of this century leprosy should, with the help of early measures, be considerably reduced."

Was Western Pioneer

Veteran of Red Rebellion, Born in the West, Dies at Age of 97 Years

Henry Monkman, perhaps the oldest of Alberta's pioneers and well-known by most old-timers of the Edmonton district, quietly passed away at Vegreville a few days ago. The late Mr. Monkman, who lived to attain the ripe old age of 97 years, was born and raised in the West, and his father was quite a colorful one. He was a veteran of the Red Rebellion, and won further distinction from the fact that he brought the first load of freight into Edmonton by ox-drawn Red River cart.

Like a Grip at the Throat. For a disease that is not classed as a fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unending dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful remedial agent. It is instantly relieving the restricted air passages as thousands can testify. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

Her Husband—"Yes, and the directions say to apply to your clothing and rub briskly on a washboard."

Sores Flea Before It—There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. All similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy, as there is nothing like it to be had. It is cheap, but its power is no way increased by its low price.

A charitable feeling caused some men when they saw a fellow-countryman in distress to wish some other man would come along and relieve him.

RED DICTATION IS RESENTED BY BRITISH LABOR

Bournemouth, Eng.—Two sensational incidents occurred at the meeting of the Trades Union Congress, which is sitting here this week. Strong resentment was displayed by the British trade union body at the attempt of M. Tomsky, a Moscow labor delegate whom the British Government refused to permit in England, to impose the Soviet standard of criticism on the conduct of the late general strike. The second was the hostile reception by the miners' delegates of the railway representative, J. Bromley, although he put forward to plead their cause.

The Tomsky incident arose out of the circulation among the delegates of an abusive telegram, signed ostensibly in behalf of the all-Russian central council of trade unions by Tomsky, attacking the British Government, which is accused of admitting representatives from Amsterdam and the United States Federation of Labor while denying admission to representatives of the Soviet workers, who were "giving their last penny to help their class brothers in this great fight."

The general council of the Trade Union Congress, attached to the document a rejoinder, declaring that it would not reply to "this ill-instructed and presumptuous criticism."

J. H. Thomas and other English trade leaders were also attacked in the Soviet telegram. The general council declared emphatically that it would not "countenance an intolerable interference in British trade union affairs nor would it accept of a delegation of a trade unionist to be degraded into a flimsy agent representing the British movement."

Studying Industrial Conditions In Canada

Sir William Mackenzie Heads Mission Sent by British Government

London.—Sir William Mackenzie has left London for Canada as head of an industrial mission sent by the British Government to study industrial conditions in Canada and the United States. He will first go to Ottawa to consult with the Canadian government, and then will visit the principal industrial towns throughout the Dominion, right to the Pacific Coast.

After his Canadian tour, he will visit the United States and return to England via Canada. He is being accompanied by the British ministry of labor to investigate particularly the character of the relations between employers and employees in various industries in Canada and the United States. A commander and a captain of the British Empire, Sir William is said to be the greatest expert on industrial relations in Great Britain. He has sat on a score of arbitration and industrial commissions.

Trade Council Will Include All Canada

Convention Next Year Is To Be Held In Victoria, B.C.

Seattle.—Inclusion of all Canada in the Pacific Foreign Trade Council was announced after a conference here between Canadian officials and commercial leaders and representatives of the council. The next convention of the council is to be held in Victoria, B.C., on September 15, 16 and 17, 1927.

Heretofore the coast trade group, which constitutes the Western division of the National Foreign Trade Council, has included only six states in this country. Under the new scheme British Columbia and all the other Canadian provinces, it is hoped, will unite their strength with the coast in meeting problems of international shipping and commercial interests.

On Coast To Coast Flight

Boston, Mass.—Two college girls left from the Boston airport as passengers in an airplane on a scheduled trans-continental flight. If successful, they will be the first of their sex to fly from coast to coast. The girls, Margaret C. Sheehan, of Manchester, N.H., and Helen A. Park, of Brooklyn, N.Y., were winners in an essay contest.

Mine Sweeper Missing

San Diego, Calif.—The British Government has appealed to the commander of the eleventh naval district here to add in a search for the New Zealand mine sweeper "Whitcomb." The ship was due here 11 days ago.

Canadians Serve On League Committees

Representatives Have Been Appointed On Six At Geneva

Geneva.—Canada secured representation on all six committees of the League of Nations assembly.

Sir George E. Foster serves on the first committee, which deals with legal and constitutional questions.

Sir George is also a member of the sixth committee, along with Dr. W. A. Riddell, permanent representative of Canada at Geneva. The sixth committee deals with political questions.

Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian commissioner-general in Paris, takes his seat on the second committee, handling technical and organization questions.

The third committee considers the question of the reduction of armaments, and Hon. Mr. Roy and Sir Herbert Ames, financial director of the League of Nations, represent the Dominion thereon.

Sir Herbert Ames was elected also a member of the fourth committee to deal with finance.

Dr. Riddell is on the fifth committee, which handles social and general questions.

Would Take Drastic Action If Necessary

British Government Is Ready To Assist Labor Workers

London.—The decision of the nine owners to refer to the various districts the question whether the executive shall be given power to negotiate with the miners for a national agreement is a result of Chamberlain's threat that the government would take drastic action if the miners would not agree to a fair play to the miners, would, if necessary, take drastic action against the owners if they persisted in their die-hard attitude.

The official report of the proceedings of the conference, as issued by the government, was carefully edited for public consumption, but it is understood that Chamberlain himself with force and emphasis told the owners that if they refused to agree to a fair play to the miners, the government would take drastic action against them. He said that the government was willing to make real concessions as it seems they are prepared to do.

Report Is Encouraging

Selected Immigrants Making Good Says Overseas Representative

Windsor.—Under the selective plan of immigration, the families brought to Canada from Great Britain are proving themselves willing farmers, and are making good, according to Rev. J. W. Williams, overseas representative of the British settlement service.

In connection with the activities of the service in Great Britain, Mr. Williams stated that lack of interest and lack of money were the two greatest obstacles which have been overcome by those seeking to attract immigration of a desirable character to Canada. He considered that the former problem would be met gradually as those who have immigrated made good, but that the second difficulty is one of economies which can only be adjusted by some form of legislation or a general betterment of conditions that is not apparent at the present moment.

Working On Bay Line

First Train Into Kettle Rapids Expected About Sept. 20

Regina.—The Hudson's Bay Railway, according to information received here by the On-to-the-Bay Association, is being pushed on. Major Ditt, of Le Port, states in a letter to the association that bridges are completed at Livingstone and Alhrolo, and the first train into Kettle Rapids, which is the present end of the steel, 32 miles from the bay, is expected around September 20.

Encourage British Emigration

London.—In a letter to the Morning Post, Lady Aberdeen suggests a plan to encourage British emigration to Canada, namely, that brothers and sisters of all classes should go out to gather, claim their land grant, take service with neighboring farmers and learn farming and the customs of the country while watching over the erection of their house and the preparation of their farm.

Trying To Cap Volcano

Managua, Nicaragua.—German engineers are engaged in the unique task of trying to cap a volcano of that name, which is near the town of that name. They seek to close the crater so that its poisonous gases will not escape and damage the crops.

Trouble In Spain

Relief Is Expected That Revolt Is Only Sidetracked

London.—Unnumbered dispatches from Spanish correspondents of some of the London morning papers represent the trouble in Spain rather as having been sidetracked than definitely overcome by authorities.

A dispatch to the Daily Express from Barcelona reports that the army in Spain has been split in two, that there have been mutinies throughout the country and that the navy is exhibiting unrest.

Hundreds of apprehensive Spaniards are said to be fleeing into France to forest their capital there.

Wrecked German Express

Two Unemployed Men Caused Death Of Twenty-two Passengers

Berlin.—Two unemployed men, Otto Schlessinger and Willy Weber, arrested on suspicion of having caused the disaster to the Berlin-Cologne express near Lehrte, August 19, in which 22 passengers were killed, are said to have confessed.

The police assert that the men said they tore up the track with the intention of derailing the train; but when the wreck occurred they were so horrified by the results of the injury that they fled, abandoning the chance to murder the coaches.

WOULD DEVELOP A DISTINCTIVE CANADIAN SPIRIT

Ottawa.—Canadian club members would do their part to develop a distinctive Canadianism, urged C. G. Cowan, of Ottawa, president of the Association of Canadian Clubs, in welcoming the delegates to the opening session here of the 14th annual meeting of the association.

Mr. Cowan, in his presidential address, said that the tradition and sentiment keep Canada a part of the British Empire, but that was no reason, he pleaded, why Canadians should not develop an individuality. "It is not necessary," urged Mr. Cowan, that Canadian institutions should be simple imitations of either British or American. In a number of ways Canadians have already shown capacity to develop their own institutions. Interchange of speakers and visits of club members will be continued, said Mr. Cowan, as the policy is considered effective in discouraging racial and sectional prejudices.

Too much is being heard, Mr. Cowan went on, about the remark of a recent writer, of east and west of Ontario and Quebec, and not enough is being heard of Canada.

It was announced that preparations are being made for an adequate celebration next year of the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation through the Dominion. There will be a celebration in the capital, said Mr. Cowan, and also throughout the provinces, and the Canadian Clubs will be urged to take definite steps in that connection.

She Dances to the Waterfall

The wonderful setting of the little waterfall known as the Glens Falls, Paradise Valley, near Lake Louise, apparently inspired this nature-dancer with the spirit of life, and with the song of the water and the soft whistling of the bird-life abounding in the woods around. She was photographed while dancing to the music of her soul.

BRITISH MARINES ARE KILLED BY CHINESE TROOPS

Shanghai.—Three British naval officers and four seamen were killed and two officers and thirteen seamen wounded by Chinese troops of Wu Pei Fu's northern army at Wanchow, Cheehwan province, 1,250 miles up the Yangtze River. The British gunboat Cockchafer returned the fire, doing considerable damage to Wanchow, a city of 150,000. How many Chinese were killed or wounded is not known.

The conflict was begun when a British boat attempted to release two British sailors, the Wanchow and Wanchow, seized by the Chinese in reprisal for the alleged drowning of fifty-six Chinese soldiers August 29, when the British steamer Wanchow, attempting to escape from Chinese capture, upset three native boats.

The British killed were: Commander F. P. Harley and Lieut. A. R. Kiggins, of the gunboat Dispatch; Lieut. C. F. Ridge, of the gunboat Cockchafer; and Seaman Farmer, Hassan, Marriot and Parrow.

The Chinese troops were commanded by General Yang Sen, an adherent of Wu Pei Fu, war lord of the central provinces, who was at Hankow, hundreds of miles distant, defending himself against Cantonese forces.

Yang's men had seized the British steamers and refused negotiations and threatened to fire upon the officers of the gunboat Cockchafer. The British retired but the next day, September 6, the small river steamer Klavie, with forty men of various British gunboats aboard, succeeded in rescuing the officers of the steamer Wanchow before the Chinese flung the banks of the river began firing.

The British party, under fire, attempted to approach the steamer Wanchow, but twenty-two of the forty men of the British navy were killed or wounded. They stood by, however, with their unopposed native boat while the Wanchow's officers leaped overboard and rescued all of them from the water except Chief Engineer Johnson, who was wounded or drowned.

The British gunboat Cockchafer then bombarded the city of Wanchow, its shells doing much damage, with an undetermined number of Chinese casualties.

Continue Customs Probe

Inquiries In Maritime Finished and May Be Resumed In Vancouver

Montreal.—The royal commission investigating the administration of the customs department has now finished its inquiries in the Maritime province and will probably proceed at the beginning of next month to Vancouver. It was stated by R. L. Calder, K.C., counsel for the royal commission.

After Vancouver the commission would probably proceed to Windsor, Ont., and Toronto.

Oppose Wage Increase

Railway Companies Present Their Case In Wage Dispute

Montreal.—Maintaining that the present cost of living and the rates of pay now in existence as they affect conductors, trainmen and yardmen on the C.N. and C.P.R. do not justify an increase in wages, representatives of both railways presented their case to Mr. Justice Hugh T. Kelly, of Toronto, and his two colleagues on the board of arbitration and conciliation now attempting to arrive at a settlement in the wage dispute between employees of the two railways and their employers.

The railways point out that the existing rates were established by a board of conciliation in 1921 and that since that time the railways have suffered substantial reductions in passenger and freight rates and the cost of living has also decreased somewhat. The existing wage scale, they point out further, is the outgrowth of conditions developed during and subsequent to the war.

With regard to the present applicants who the railways claim are among the highest paid classes of railway employees in the Canadian service, the joint statement of the companies points out that the application is identical in all respects with those already submitted to and declined by the United States roads.

First Message Between Irish Governments

Ulster Expresses Sympathy With Free State Over Cinema Tragedy

Drumcollogher, County Limerick, Ireland.—Forty-eight of those who perished in the fire which swept a cinema theatre here, where a moving picture was being shown, were buried in the local churchyard in a common grave. Twenty-six of them were charred beyond identification.

Belfast, Ireland.—For the first time in history a message of sympathy has passed between the two Irish governments.

Finance Minister Hugh Pollock, acting in the absence of Premier Craigavon, telegraphed President Cosgrave, of the Free State executive council, expressing Ulster's profound sympathy with those bereaved in the cinema tragedy at Drumcollogher.

GERMANY NOW IS A MEMBER OF THE LEAGUE

Geneva.—Germany, with impressive unanimity was elected a member of the League of Nations, and was thus bidden to enter the portals of Geneva's institution of peace.

Without a dissenting vote also Germany was designated "ex officio" as president Nitschke put it, a member of the league council, and will thus sit as the equal of France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan.

Germany, who accepted the action of the league, for Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general, received a telegram from Gustav Stresemann, the German foreign minister, announcing the departure of a German delegation for Geneva, and by this acceptance comes herself to subordination to all the obligations and responsibilities under the covenant of the league, which was fashioned to outlaw war.

The assembly also ratified the recommendation for an increase of the number of the non-permanent members of the council from six to nine.

Another incident compelling international attention was India proclaiming with fulminating voice her ambition to become a self-governing country, like Canada or Australia. Speaking first in perfect English, then translating his own address into faultless French, the Maharajah of Kaptipatti, attired in the latest occidental garb, spoke feelingly of the awakening India, vowing the united and self-governing country like Canada or Australia.

He related India's progress in the social and hygienic fields and assured the delegates that India's 300,000,000 inhabitants were represented at Geneva by a delegation ready and eager to do its share in the betterment of the world.

Now that Germany's advent into the league is assured, statesmen are concentrating their attention on the question of the Reich's probable political activities at Geneva. Leading delegates venture the hope that Germany will not act brusquely but will first gradually toward a solution of outstanding problems such as the restoration of her colonies and the evacuation of German soil.

SAYS WAR DEBT QUESTION IS NOT TO BE REOPENED

Quebec.—That minister as sound public opinion in England was concerned, the problem of Great Britain's war debt to the United States was settled and there was no question of the British Government reopening the matter was the statement made by Mr. Excellence, Sir Esmé Howard, K.C., M.P., C.V.O., British ambassador to the United States, who is in Quebec for a brief visit.

"The only thing I can say," declared Sir Esmé, when asked regarding the current debt cancellation rumors, "is to repeat the recent statement of Sir Austen Chamberlain, British secretary of state for foreign affairs. That is, that the question has been settled and it is not for us to re-open it. Everyone in England intends to pay the debt as long as there is a physical possibility of paying and there seems to be no reason why it should not be paid in its entirety."

Sir Esmé declared that he had no late information regarding the appointment of a Canadian ambassador to the United States. He repeated, as he has often stated in the past, that he had no objection whatever to the appointment of such a minister.

New Motor Fuel

Experiments Show That Grain Dust Runs Auto Engine

Washington.—Grain dust taken from a grain elevator has been found to have sufficient explosive power to run an automobile engine.

Department of agriculture chemists, who conducted tests, announced that while the engine did not make any prolonged continuous run, enough power was developed with the dust to turn it over many times.

A huge cylinder of feeding the dust through a tube to the intake valve was employed.

The experimenters said the study gave "encouraging results which indicated the possibilities of designing an engine to run on grain dust as the source of fuel."

A Handsome Bequest

Late Baroness Strathcona Left Montreal Hospital $121,500

Edinburgh, Scotland.—The will of the late Baroness Strathcona, who died on August 18 last, which was filed at Register House here, is dated November 17, 1925, and includes, among other public bequests, one of $25,000 (about $121,500) to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Baroness Strathcona was a daughter of Lord Strathcona, a former high commissioner for Canada in London, and succeeded to the title upon the death of her father in 1914. She was married in 1888 to Dr. Robert Jacob Dill Howard, of Montreal, who predeceased her in 1921.

Canada Not A Candidate

Will Not Ask For Seat On League Council Says Sir George Foster

Paris.—The correspondent of Excelsior, a daily paper of Paris, states that some of the British dominions are urging Canada to ask for a seat on the league council, but he adds that Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, is not in favor of this. Other powers, the correspondent says, are not in favor of the proposal.

Sir George E. Foster, in reply to a query at Geneva, said that Canada was not a candidate for one of the nine newly created non-permanent seats on the council.

New Zealand Is Loyal

Dominion Must Be Kept British Says Prime Minister

Auckland, New Zealand.—"We must keep New Zealand British," declared Hon. J. G. Coates, Premier of New Zealand, during an address to his constituents at Kaipara Harbor.

"If others adopt New Zealand as their country," he continued, "they should become loyal to our constitution and our flag."

No doubt existed in the minds of New Zealanders as to where they stood within the empire or about their loyalty to Great Britain. Their object must be to bind the empire together.

Ends State of War

Madrid.—The Spanish government signed a decree ending the state of war which was proclaimed throughout Spain in consequence of the "mysterious movement in the artillery corps."

MICHEL WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

EDMONTON, Sept. 18.—Freebooters of Michel, B.C., headed together in an alfie a bunch of amateur soccer players as local fans have gazed upon in these parts for some time, took the measure of the Edmonton Canadians here Saturday afternoon, and marched south again with the Bennett shield, emblem of football championship of the province.

The odd goal, taken in the initial game at Michel two weeks ago, proved the downfall of the Callies on their own playing field, and resulted in the shield leaving Alberta for the first time in its history. The score here was 2-2 with the visitors having things practically their own way in the first half, and the Callies showing a decided edge in the final canto. Each team contributed a tally to their opponents: Lamb heading a corner into his nets in the first half and Sawyer driving a hot save into Jenkins, which rebounded into the Michel netting during the last stage of the game.

The short, stocky Michel team made themselves right at home on the expansive and grassy award of Renfrew park, contrary to general expectations, and flashed around the Callies for the bulk of the play during the early stages. However, first blood was drawn from Michel when Sneedon pushed a rebound into the B.C. goal to wipe out the margin of the visitors.

Corlett, playing a spectacular game for Michel all the way through, put the visitors ahead shortly after, when he went through the local defence alone and trundled the ball across the line. Callies' stock broke sharply again when Lamb headed a corner past his own goal warden. Local fans who have seen the Callies in many a game pull out sensational wins in the last half, were not entirely disappointed when the visitors were driven back into their half area for almost the last thirty minutes, and on several occasions came within an inch of having their hold on the shield pried loose. Twice the ball struck the top bar of the goal and rolled over. Sawyer's blocked kick which scored against Michel raised local hopes to fever pitch, but the gallant speedsters from the mountain mining hamlet, stuck to their guns and held the Callies at the last ditch.

Following the game, the Bennett shield was formally presented to the popular Michel team by J. F. Lyburn, attorney general of the province. The game was particularly clean. Wm. Street was referee.

The teams lined up:
Michel—Goal, Sawyer; backs, Jenkins and Corrigan; halves, F. McFarland, McGovern, Mitchell; forwards, McKenzie, Travers, Corlett, J. McFarland and Little.

Callies—Goal, Keddie; backs, Hoyle and Lamb; halves, Reid, Langlands and Corsar; forwards, R. Davidson, Sneedon, Thompson, J. Davidson and Gillespie.

price was a little higher than that of Broley & Martin, but seeing that Mr. Budd is a Blairmore citizen and a heavy taxpayer, he was awarded the contract.

PROMOTE COOKING INDUSTRY

The International Coal & Coke Company have two coke ovens working with a view of producing a coke suitable for domestic purposes. It is thought by those in close touch with the markets, that there will develop a considerable market in Western Canada for this fuel to replace anthracite. Already this coke is being used by owners of city apartment houses, stores, etc., for heating purposes and also by the C.P.R. on their dining cars. A broad development of this business in the Pass mines will go far in securing some of the business now held by anthracite coal in the Winnipeg and other western city markets.—Lethbridge Herald.

MORE ABOUT CUT PRICES

Henry Longfellow could take a sheet of paper, worth one-tenth of a cent, write a poem on it and make it worth $5000. THAT'S GENIUS.

Henry Ford can take a similar sheet of paper, write a few words on it and make it worth $10,000,000. THAT'S CAPITAL.

A workman can take three cents' worth of steel, make it into watch springs and collect hundreds of dollars. THAT'S SKILL.

A merchant can take an article worth 50 cents, advertise it and sell it for $1.00. THAT'S BUSINESS.

Almost anyone can take an order at a cut price, without profit. THAT'S TOUGH.

One for Teacher

The Bishop of Manchester, who was at one time a schoolmaster, tells the story of a teacher in an elementary school who was trying to impress on the children how important had been the discovery of the law of gravitation. "Sir Isaac Newton was sitting on the ground. An apple fell on his head, and from that he discovered gravitation."

"Just think, children," she added, "isn't that wonderful?"

A small boy replied: "Yes, miss, and if he had been sitting in the schoolroom lookin' at his books, he wouldn't have discovered nothin'."

At the Altar

A Kansas editor decided to do his own society writing. Here is one of his paragraphs from the story of a wedding:

"It was a wonderful wedding. The girl was as sweet as any girl who ever lived, but modern. As she walked up the aisle on her father's arm, her lips lightly tilted at the corners in a happy smile, she was a picture of modest beauty. Her filmy wedding gown and gossamer veil floated around her fair blonde head like a halo. She was as nearly an angel as girls get to be in this world. At the altar as she passed from her father, the man she had always loved, to the man to whom she would devote the rest of her life, her dainty slipper touched a potted lily resting on the floor and turned it over. Smiling again, she turned to the dear old pastor waiting at the chancel, and said: "That's a hell of a place to put a lily."

A De Luxe Street Car

London Street Cars Are To Be Like Limousines

Their utility having been brought into doubt, London's street cars may still be saved by luxury.

By way of experiment the London council recently put a de luxe street car in operation along the Thames embankment. It contained seats as comfortable as those of a limousine. Special attention was paid to the lighting so as to enable passengers to read their newspapers without straining their eyes.

So popular has the car proved with passengers that the council has decided to order 100 more of the same kind.

The "Dead Point" in Canadian Progress

By C. W. Peterson

The Great War and its aftermath of economic misery in Europe demonstrated the effect of over-population in highly developed countries. Nature, however, has a way of effectively compensating for such conditions, and we are now witnessing the operation of this corrective process in the rapidly falling birth rate of the more advanced countries of the world. It is, however, an open question whether such over-population in its train greater economic evils than under-population in an undeveloped country of such enormous extent as Canada.

A young country of vast natural resources obviously faces difficult problems of administration. Such resources lie dormant until the magic touch of man and capital render them available. And until they are made available and contribute to the national wealth they cannot be taken seriously as an asset. All this involves the opening up of the country with the concomitant in terms of great expenditure on transportation facilities of various kinds and for providing such amenities as will attract the homelaborer and capital, governments and municipalities are consequently faced with perpetual demands on their credit and resources, all of which add to the burden of taxation. If this, in turn, becomes too high, it acts as a serious deterrent to capital and immigration.

New countries, therefore, normally grapple "between the devil and the deep blue sea," until they successfully overcome the "dead point" in the revolution progress through reaching a population and general development approximately sufficient to absorb the abnormal overhead inseparable from the earlier stages of pioneering conditions. Canada just now is drifting about in the doldrums of this difficult period, laboriously carrying the burden, public, private and corporate, of every sort of modern facility, to accommodate a population at least four or five millions greater than what it is. So the outstanding problem in Canadian public policy just now is how to augment rapidly our inefficient agricultural population. Compared with this, all other issues are insignificant.

There has always been a deplorable tendency on the part of Canada to follow blindly in the administrative footsteps of the United States. This was never more apparent than when, laboring under wartime emotionalism, we adopted drastic exclusion regulations following the imposition of the quota law south of the line. We never stopped to consider that the United States carefully refrained from any such measures until her population exceeded a round hundred millions and she was on the verge of heavy importation of foodstuffs. It is certainly possible to escape the conclusion that the United States is a great, prosperous nation, whose citizens enjoy a standard of living far above that of any other, except perhaps Canada. In the eyes of the world, the entire world that country easily represents the modern El Dorado. All this has been accomplished largely through the "open door" policy. If we in Canada could attain the same degree of material success within a similar period, we would apparently have reason to be amply satisfied with ourselves. That we can accomplish this through immigration policies proceeding in the opposite direction to those that made the U. S. great is, however, open to serious doubt.

Worms in children's world havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SEPTEMBER 19

OBEEDIENCE TO LAW (TEMPERANCE LESSON)

Golden Text: Drink no wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons, with thee. Leviticus 10:3.
Lesson: Leviticus 26.
Devotional Reading: Proverbs 23:29-35.

Explanations and Comments

Promises of Blessings to Those Who Obey the Law, verses 3-13.—With these verses compare Ex. 23:22-23 and Dt. 28:1-11. Baron was right when he declared that "Prosperity is the blessing of the Old Testament." If Israel is faithful, if she keeps the laws, she is here promised the blessing of fertility—the products of the ground, the fruit and the grain shall be hers. "A truly modern mind" across the idea that the fertility of the soil can be affected by immorality. Yet there is the whole of Mesopotamia to show that misgovernment can make a garden into a desert. Where were the fertile populations once covered the country with fruitful gardens and luxuriant cities, there are now in the land of the Tigris and Euphrates a few handfuls of people, and all the fertile soil is a desert. Where irrigation channels which made all this life have been gradually filled with drifting sand, and one of the most populous and fertile countries of the world has become a desert, in Palestine the same thing may be seen. Under Turkish domination the character of the soil changed. In many places, where in ancient days the hills were terraced to the top, the sweeping rains have had their way and the very soil has been carried off, leaving only a ghastly, lifeless, pitiless sun. (Andrew Harper).

After Four Hundred Years

Basilia in France Dedicated To Joan Of Arc

The Basilia which King Charles VII. vowed he would build if Joan of Arc succeeded in driving the English out of France as the promised more than 400 years ago, was consecrated at Domremy, the birthplace of the national heroine. King Charles VII. failed to fulfill his promise, but it was not forgotten, and the little Lorraine village was gay with the ceremony which began with ecclesiastical pomp. The church was thirty-three years in building. It is ornamented with frescoes of the chief events in the life of the peasant girl who has become a Saint of the Church. The altar is considered a work of art worthy to rank with any in the nation's churches. The church faces the little house on the hill where Joan was born and overlooks the Valley of the Meuse, where in the Great War the country was the scene of some of the fiercest fighting of the delivery of France from foreign occupation.

Ticket Includes Insurance

Passengers on German Aeroplanes Are Well Protected Against Accident

Every time a traveller goes up in air on one of Germany's seventy-five aeroplanes routes he is insured for $6,000 at the expense of Lufthansa, the concern which operates these routes. Flying to Germany is regarded quite as safe as travelling by train or motor car. The insurance companies with which Lufthansa has contracted for the insurance of passengers charge merely the usual accident rate, without the super-charged customary in the case of "extra-hazardous occupations."

Curfew Law in Chicago

Edict Goes Forth That Gives Much Trouble to Policemen

Time turned back a generation or two as Chicago, a sophisticated city of 3,000,000 vilified the curfew law of its innocent village days, but policemen, owing to the style of the reigning generation, found enforcement a matter of considerable difficulty.

All unescorted boys and girls 16 years old or under must be off the streets at 10 o'clock, the city fathers have ruled, in an effort to end a long series of attacks and kidnappings, and 3,000 cops were sent forth to enforce the edict.

Then their troubles began for they claimed that with the prevailing mode of short skirts, rolled back and bobbed hair they were unable to distinguish children from grownups. Several married women, well over twenty, were taken into custody as "children," while bewildered policemen who stopped "hide" were indignantly informed that their ages were above the curfew limit.

Parks were ordered closed at 10 p.m. and country highway officers patrolled country roads and lovers' lanes.

"Youngsters must do their courting hereafter in the parlor at home," said Chief of Police Colquhoun, "that we want to be old-fashioned, but simply as a common sense measure to check dangers to themselves."

A Famous Man

The originator of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood, as well as the "Favorite Prescription" for women, was Dr. J. C. Pierce, a practicing physician in Western Pennsylvania. He early moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established "The Invalids' Hotel," then he put up his home remedies in the World's Dispensary where they were carefully prepared from roots, barks and herbs, and placed them, with druggists all over the U. S. and Canada.

For over half a century, Dr. Pierce's Discovery, for the blood, has been sold in larger quantities by druggists than any other medicine. It is a tonic in itself on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alternative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, cleans the skin of eruptions and blemishes, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young and care free. Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's family medicine, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10 cents for a package of tablets to Doctor Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeport, Ont.

CHAPTER XIV.—Continued.

She talked on, saying things that were meaningless to Joanna, the obvious things that had to do with the beginnings of a new friendship, and the prospects of a "lovely" time for the girl in a new life. A trim, lace-trimmed and white head-dressed maid answered Yvonne's summons and replied to her mistress's questions that Miss Manners' apartment was in order.

"I've a little bedroom and a cozy sitting room for you, not too far from my own," Yvonne explained. "I hope you will be as comfortable."

At a finger touch a gold panel in the wall of the reception hall slid back, disclosing a tiny gilt elevator of the kind that is automatic.

The maid followed them into the lift and pushed the buttons that sent it climbing to an upper floor. Joanna was strangely tremulous. She wanted to say bright things to the older woman who was ushering her into these new and luxurious surroundings, but her mind was in a uneasy turmoil.

"Why was everything happening at it was?" So naturally, so swiftly, so emphatically. Should she trust herself to Yvonne Countess?

She stole a glance at the woman who stood so close to her, and comprehended her extraordinary fascination, the hair that was as black as raven, the magnificent white face contrasting sharply with the two luminous black eyes, and the lips that were full and red without the exaggerations of lip sick contours.

The fear that vibrated through her at times with Brandon, the indomitable, the that seemed so unbecomingly, gripped her for a second. Then her thoughts flashed to what Teddy Dominhardt had said in the room downstairs: "A singer, or a dancer, or something like that?"

What was there wrong about that? She had put on her grey tail coat and the milk coat. And her smart, grey cloche hat was from a famous Avenue shop. Did she still remind one of the silk counter?

And if she did, what of it? Yvonne had imitations of the silk counter all right? Certainly there had been no girl in her merry go-as-far-as-you-can - without skidding crowd, who could profess to cause men's wives to need consolation because they had not been serious? It was just a matter of tact; the small talk she would have to learn.

All of these things flashed through the girl's agile mind while the tiny gold elevator lifted from the first floor to the third. When the car had stopped, and the maid had slid open the narrow gridded door and stepped out, Joanna had dispersed her doubts with a determined wave of confidence.

The arrogant came back into her eyes and to her lips. "She'd get on, or she'd taken an awful wallop trying!"

Joanna smiled back at her. "No, I don't think it is, altogether, the agreed brightly, but that is as close as I can put it into words. You see, all my life, that is, since I've been alone and making my own way, I've had to fight hard to keep up with the crowd. I've wanted things that cost money, and I've wanted things that you can't have, or enjoy, when you're skimped. The things you could ever do was owe somebody installments on a dress or a wrap or my shoes, and keep my eyes open for rags in my stockings. I've looked all right, and I've laughed a lot, but things have always happened to make me cry, too."

Again that bell-like voice of the older girl clipped off a question: "What, for example?"

Joanna studied a moment, her eyes looking out into the room. "They were just such little things," she protested; "things you wouldn't understand."

"I think I would understand," Yvonne persisted.

"But you wouldn't," Joanna argued. "One like you simply would not. I've cried my fool eyes out, often, because some man—some boy I liked, wouldn't stay away and I've had nobody to talk anything over with. Mostly, people who are worth while to talk to make me tired—I mean, they don't know. When I cut my hair they thought I cut my morals, and I go off alone on a party they think I ought to be in a harem. When they tell me I don't act like the girls of yesterday I have to say who cares? I hang about yesterday when there's so many today and then I'm told I'm just plain bad. Once in a while I get so cut up about it that I have to have a cry."

She thought she finished lamely. She smiled a little at the futility of her explanations. But Yvonne displayed no amusement. She said very quietly:

"And don't you think that I am cut up a bit, now and then, when the people who are worth while, as you say to them, interpret me as both plain bad and fancy bad? Perhaps I am. There are different ways to view everything, but—well," she broke off, and was silent for a brief moment.

"Well, you see that I do understand," Yvonne said.

"You were glad to come to me because you think I am of today, and not yesterday; that I am the proof of all your little theories of what a woman ought to be today—just that?"

Many Homestead Entries

Approximately twelve as many homesteads have been taken up in the west this year as last. For the first five months, the figures were 135,529 acres this year, as against 214,685 acres in the same period of 1925.

Cupid is a celebrated matchmaker but sometimes he isn't in a hurry.

A sensible man is one who knows when to let go before taking hold.

Yvonne swept the girl's face with a quick glance. "What do you know about me?"

It was difficult for "Miss Twenty-seven" to understand, for a time, that the exquisite miniature drawing room, rose shaded and satin hung, with windows looking down upon an open garden, was to be exclusively hers. With John, through such evenings as she had consented to stay in with him, she had planned, or rather, listened to him plan, the house that he would some day build for themselves. They had endowed this dream house with many little fancies, but in her visions there had been no such splendours as the "little" room, with its rose bedroom and canopied bed beyond the softly draped door, which Yvonne had prepared for her. And Yvonne was saying:

"You will want your own maid, of course. But I haven't engaged one. You will want to engage her yourself. I fancy Walker can send you a collection of them—he has a way of procuring them when they're needed. I shall advise a French girl, or an English one. The first will be more skilful, the other more loyal."

Joanna couldn't stifle her laugh. "You'll have to tell me what to do with a maid," she explained. "Then something like a phantom of tears hovered suddenly in the deep brown eyes. "You know, I feel terribly alone," she said, "and terribly afraid of myself, I mean."

Yvonne swept the girl's face with a quick glance. She spoke quietly to the maid who fluttered about the room. The maid went out, closing the door behind her. To Joanna Yvonne said: "Come and sit down." She indicated the divan beside her. "If you'd like one there are cigarettes in the box on the table. I think I'll have one, too." Before she spoke again she drew a contemplative pout and allowed the smoke to curl slowly from her lips. Joanna watched her silently. Her first words were abrupt.

"There are a great many people who enjoy themselves talking about me," she said. "And some of them take an especial delight in talking to strangers. What do you know of me?"

These were queries that would not discomfort Joanna. She was too accustomed to making sudden attacks herself, or defending them. "Only what everybody knows," she replied frankly. "We read about you, you know, and your pictures always are in the newspapers. I've thought more of you than I ever did of a million picture stars, and that's a lot."

Why? This was more difficult. The girl hesitated, faltered. Again Yvonne's voice, clear, bell-like, clipped the one word:

"Why?"

"I think," Joanna ventured, "because you make people talk about you. Wherever you go, and whatever you do, people talk about it. It's being famous and besides, being famous for yourself, not for what you do. And you have such a wonderful round of acquaintances."

Yvonne contemplated her cigarette again, following the lazy drifting of its wreath of smoke. "No," she said, "that is not the reason you have been interested in me; and it is not the reason you were so willing to come to me when I invited you."

A smile suddenly played at her mouth and she nodded at the girl on the divan beside her. "Is it?" she insisted.

Joanna smiled back at her. "No, I don't think it is, altogether, the agreed brightly, but that is as close as I can put it into words. You see, all my life, that is, since I've been alone and making my own way, I've had to fight hard to keep up with the crowd.
